

SACing Lily
A note by the Deputy President (Clubs & Societies)

Introduction

It has been the case in previous years' that the incoming DPCS doesn't show up to the last CSB of the year. If the DPCS elect is here now she should be sent out to do important stuff, like photocopying, or scanning.

Decisions Required

To mandate the Deputy President (Clubs and Societies) Elect:

1. • To hang upside-down on the scaffolding at Freshers' Fair (if it ever gets approved by Health and Safety) whilst giving out the volunteers' radios.
2. • To stand by the new bike pump as to pump up student's wheels when asked.
3. • To not enter the Student Activities Centre without a very good reason.
4. • To learn to drive the minibuses, so Phil can relax when a bus breaks down.
5. • To promote dancing as part of a healthy lifestyle by inviting Morris dancers to the Quad every Wednesday night.
6. • To describe herself as the Deputy President (Cakes and Sweets) in a council report, and see if anyone notices.
7. • To gather all the underspend this year and keep it in a jar behind her desk.

Caveat if the above conditions are not met:

1. • To mandate the incoming members of CSB to pelt the DPCS elect with the free lunches she will get from the Sport Imperial meetings.
2. • To mandate the DPCS elect to clean up & re-pack everything after the incoming members of CSB have performed this task.
