

Felix Editor's Report
For Imperial College Union Council Meeting, 9th April 2008
By Tom Roberts – Felix Editor

Felix Newspaper

Since my last report we've printed 6 issues of Felix (up to and including the 6th June issue) As predicted, Felix has shrunk somewhat in size this term, but we haven't dropped below 28-pages, which is very respectable. There are two left to go!

Felix Finances & Advertising

I haven't been able to focus on the finances as much as usual this term, so I'll be spending a good majority of July chasing up the outstanding invoices, as well as securing advertising for next year's Felix. A Dubai based company, whose name I forget, drove a wodge of money over to my house/the office this term, which was unexpected but most welcome.

Freshers' Handbook 2008-09

I'm working with the editor-elect to produce the next handbook. We're in the early stages at the moment, but once again, when Felix has run its course for the year, work on the handbook will step up a gear.

If you are involved with a club or society, please can you remind the chair to send in the club's description, along with any photographs that you would like used. High resolution photos only please! Send them to felix@imperial.ac.uk.

I,Science

The third I,Science issue of the year should be out this week. I'm very pleased we've been able to produce three excellently written issues this year. Mad props to Eddie Warwynczak for all his immense work this year.

Phoenix

The second issue of this year's Phoenix should be coming out in the next few days too. The editor has gone for a slightly different look this time and it's awesome once again. We should be squeezing one out for the end of term/start of next year too.

Guardian Student Media Awards

We're going to be submitting to the awards once the final two issues are done and dusted. We'll soon be spending plenty of time cringing over articles in the earlier issues and trying to decide which to submit for what categories. If anyone has any thoughts on which issues were strongest, vocalise yourselves.

Goodbye Everyone

Especially my staff who have worked their socks off this year. I love you all.
