

Imperial College Union
Designated Reserves

*A paper by the Deputy President (Finance & Services) &
Deputy President-elect (Finance & Services)*

Background

1. Capital Expenditure Plans (CEPs) have existed for over 20 years
2. They are a way for clubs, societies and projects (CSPs) to save up for large expenditure items over many years
3. The Union contributes to CEPs from subvention money, along with the CSPs

Issues to address

1. CEPs are financially unsustainable and morally questionable, with few CSPs benefiting at the expense of the majority
2. They are also complex and difficult to administer and access for CSPs
3. In order to comply with regulations regarding our soon-to-be charity status, we need to designate what any large sums of money are for
4. CSPs should have a simple and accessible way to save money long-term

Proposal

It is proposed that:

1. We stop providing CEPs for CSPs, while honoring any existing CEPs
2. We create a new way for CSPs to save long-term in the way of designated reserves (see the Appendix for details), taking into account SORP accounting procedures
